

OPEN HOUSE PRODUCER

The Opportunity:

Open House is a live news, current affairs and talkback programme exploring life, faith and culture from a Christian perspective. Each programme includes compelling interviews, engaging talkback and expert opinion on the issues of the week.

In March 2017 Open House returns for a new season, with a new host – Stephen O’Doherty.

Stephen’s unique background spans careers in broadcast journalism, government, Christian leadership and community sectors. To many Stephen is well known as the pioneering host of 2GB’s market-dominating ‘Sundown Rundown’ drive show. In the 90s Stephen served as a frontbench MP in the NSW parliament. Stephen is a regular contributor to programmes such as the Drum, Q&A and The Panel.

We’ve got our Host – now we need the other vital team member.

Our New Open House Producer will...

- Have a proven track record as journalist, particularly in radio or digital media
- Have a well thought-through, mature understanding of the integration of work and the Christian faith, especially as it applies to media work
- Be ready to break new ground in exploring how belief and faith respond to the news of the week
- Bring an extensive network of contacts in both secular and faith-based organisations
- Be skilled in researching and preparing interview briefs for the host, and also able to record interview material independently when needed
- Possess digital audio editing skills combined with a capacity to post material on our social and digital platforms (downloads for previous ‘Open House’ shows are among the most popular resources on our website)
- Have the ear to identify great radio talent and prep them to join on our conversations on the air.
- Be self-motivated with the ability to work independently when required
- Have a firm belief in the mission and values of Hope Media
- And... be ready to start now!
